Living waters will flow

rea.church

Are you thirsty for a move of God?

Are you ready to yield your comfort and every human strategy to the lead of the Holy Spirit? Are you ready to abdicate platform and careerism and ego for the glory of Jesus? Are you aching for emerging generations to find that they are valued and called for participation in the radical mission of God? Are you mindful of your own wounded heart and need for His transformative grace? Are you thirsty for the manifest presence of God among His people — healing, renewing, restoring, transforming a broken people and broken city into nothing less than the glory for which He has intended it?

Jesus said: "Let anyone who is thirsty come to me and drink. Whoever believes in me, as Scripture has said, rivers of living water will flow from within them."

The River Rea

[pronounced: 'ray']

The city of Birmingham began on the banks of the River Rea in the 7th Century. This river runs right past our church building.

'Rea' means 'to flow' — taken from the same Greek word used in John 7:38 to describe the flow of God's Spirit from God's people.

Our name is an intersection of the story of God and the story of our city. It is a reminder that every life that learns to find its source in the person of Jesus discovers the life-giving and life-bringing flow of His living presence.

The Vision

The vision is Jesus: to love Him, to know Him, and to see all things as He sees them. Everything else is the overflow. He is our focus, our ambition, our pace-setter, our inspiration, our friend. His are the rhythms of grace.

It is a movement of the Holy Spirit, fuelled in prayer and warfare, undermining the structural and personal work of darkness in every hurting life — unto their salvation, healing, transformation, liberation, and participation.

It is to become a sacrificial and interdependent community, and a community of communities, that pulsate with love, honesty, forgiveness, honour, and authenticity, who travel together in the real questions and pains and joys of our lives.

It is to learn to worship and pray corporately, intimately, expectantly, joyfully, freely, and with eyes that perceive the ever-present potential of His beautiful Kingdom.

It is to see transformed communities, economics inverted, poverty contended, addicts liberated, sex workers beloved, asylum seekers honoured, single people and families finding belonging and family together, the hungry fed, and orphans drawn into our homes.

It is to live with material simplicity and yet celebration of everything beautiful, delicious, and good. It is to embody prophetic generosity with our money, possessions, people and gifts. It is to steward a culture of love, honour, creativity, laughter, rest and authenticity in our leadership and teams, modelling a contagious new way of being to our city.

It is to espouse grace-modelled parenting, healthy lifestyles, and ethical shopping — to be a loud and effective voice in society for justice, anti-trafficking, aid and development locally and overseas, for peace and reconciliation in the conflicts of the world. It is to become a sending and receiving hub of missionary work, effectively and relationally linked to the nations.

It is to be an inspiration centre for the artisan and the entrepreneur, hosting an atmosphere of empowerment, courage, and reconnection to our God-given creativity. It is to enable every one of us to journey on the winds of the Spirit as partners with the very imagination of God.

The vision is to see miracle-bringers on the streets, in the offices and warehouses and shopping centres and back gardens of a city, inviting the Lordship of Jesus to transform the pains of the ordinary into His vibrant fullness. It is to see oh so many join this vision of the pursuit of Him, recognising in joy and clarity that He is alive, that He reigns, and that He calls us to friendship, to daughtership and sonship, and to partnership in His cosmic work of healing.

This vision is not ours, but has been inspired in us through meeting the Great Visionary; the One who truly sees what our souls and our city could be. The One whose values are more beautiful and ability more complete and love more radical than any other power or personality upon the earth. None can be compared with Him. He is our Visionary, our Leader, our Lord. He is our Origin, our Way Maker, and our Destination. He is our Source. And His name is Jesus.

For the unending glory of His name, so may this be.

Introduction

Rea Church is a vibrant and diverse community, based in Balsall Heath, Birmingham. While our reach is Birmingham and beyond, we also have a specific missional focus upon the community of Balsall Heath on our doorstep. Balsall Heath is economically deprived, ethnically diverse, demographically young, and over 60% Muslim. Looking a little further afield, virtually every demographic imaginable live within a mile of our church, including a significant population of young families. Our building is on a major artery road out of the city. The missional and discipleship opportunities are extraordinary.

We are at an exciting moment in our journey, with two communities (Anchor Church & St Mary and St Ambrose Church) having come together in 2024 to form Rea Church — a community of around 140 adults and children. Our launch has included a substantial Church of England funding bid for building improvements and staffing increase, with a view to growing a 400+ congregation over the next five years.

This role is a part of this project.

Values

As a church we have four organising values:

Apostolic

We are a sent people, called out by God to be sent into the pains of a broken world with the inbreaking realities of the Kingdom of God.

Creativity

Every apprentice of Jesus is called to be an agent of new creation in the church and in the city. Leaders steward a culture of trust, love, and empowerment, releasing gifted creatives to strengthen the church and renew the city.

Table

All healthy ministry grows from strong relationships, and thus we nurture healthy community at the heart of every team and our church family. We encourage every church member to be a part of a local table community as a part of this.

Impossibility

Our vision and ministry grows out of partnership with the Spirit of God, and thus we anticipate His supernatural work among and through us. Our vision should always exceed our natural ability as we journey our vocation with God.

Leadership

Leadership is the art of aligning the people of God to the flow of His Spirit. To be a leader, then, is primarily to be a follower — nurturing a deep inner life with Jesus, from who all our inspiration and motivation and strategy and security come. We begin in Him, or, as He put it, we abide. He is the source of all Kingdom fruitfulness. We minister to Him before we minister to people. Our leaders thus are invested in personal and corporate patterns of prayer and Scripture, worship and community, surrender and celebration. We pay for our leaders to have two annual retreats (one personal, one with the team), and support personal development through teaching resources, supervision, and intentional discernment of the activity of God in your life in this moment.

Such leaders raise the spiritual temperature of the church, leading the people both to deeper authenticity and higher joy. Leaders gather and equip and encourage and mobilise the people of God for their participation in this work.

Team

Healthy leadership is nurtured in interdependent and encouraging community. Thus every leader both belongs to a team and builds team. Across the church and in various ministries, we have nearly fifty people with leadership responsibilities. The hub of this is our staff team, which the appointee to this role will become a part. The staff team is currently is made up of:

Chris Mitton:
Lead Pastor

Chris leads the team, and has primary responsibility for stewarding the vision and culture of the church. He has developed various discipleship materials (historycourse.org, Further Up & Further In), and is passionate about growing mature leaders, deep disciples, and healthy church culture.

Pat Brown-Richards:
Associate Pastor

Pat is a pastor and a change maker, with a massive heart for creating community, building family, and seeing hurting lives finding the healing life that is only found in Jesus. She works with us for eight hours a week, and focuses her time on wider pastoral ministry, and support of the bereaved.

Taylor Warhurst:
Operations Pastor

Taylor oversees all of the operational life of the church, ensuring our systems are fluid and honouring. She also invests in team development and culture, as well as leading and teaching on Sundays. She is a trained StrengthsFinders coach with expertise also in the Enneagram.

Pete Dalton:
Curate

Pete oversees Alpha, and is a gifted teacher and pastor, working with us full time. He carries a particular heart for those outside of the church, with extensive experience in community development and youthwork.

Joyce Brown:
Over 60s Pastor

Joyce oversees pastoral ministry with Over 60s, with a particular heart to see them seen, engaged, cared for, and integrated as a key part of our church community. Joyce works with us for eight hours a week.

Our staff team is accountable to both our core leadership team (who help discern the seasonal direction of the church, and consider major matters of direction and culture), and our trustees/PCC (who oversee matters of healthy governance and finance).

Role Responsibilities

The Kids&Families Pastor will build on strong foundations of our existing ministry, and develop outreach work to local children and families, to draw new children and parents to Jesus.

Our existing kids & families ministry is called Relay — with a vision of handing on the baton of faith and Kingdom mission to the next generation. We view children not just as the future of the church, but as our present — encouraging them to be participants and contributors to the life of our church. We aim to build them as missionary disciples, filled with the Holy Spirit, discovering their identity and gifts in Him.

We believe a significant means of engagement to our local community will be via families, and thus this role will establish projects and events that bring God's blessing to our local community and nurture new people into relationships with Jesus. Their primary responsibilities will be:

- Abiding: an active and surrendered relationship with Jesus, through regular spiritual practices, both in private and public (e.g. prayer, worship, Scripture, accountability, and rest).
- Visionary: We are not looking for an individual to merely maintain the ministry that we have begun, but to take it forwards to new places of depth, maturity, and mission. - Teachable: aware of areas of weakness and growth, surrendered to the renewing work of the Spirit, open to developing their skills and areas of gifting.
- Integrated: it will be important that the appointee is integrated into the Rea Church community, and thus we are looking for a candidate who will be happy to make Rea Church their regular worshipping community.

Appendix: Leadership Expectations

Leadership is a role of responsibility and discernment in the Church of Jesus. Leaders steward the community with good order, Kingdom values, and model and teach the Way of Jesus for others to follow.¹

While there are many people leading in various ministries across the church, this document outlines specific expectations for those with positions of senior leadership (including core team and pastoral/teaching staff roles).²

Prayerful

A mature, spiritually hungry, and lived out desire to be in pursuit of the person and ways of Jesus of Nazareth and the presence of the Holy Spirit, nurtured both in private and public practices of devotion to Him. Every Christian leader is firstly a follower of Jesus.

Holy

A posture of humility and surrender, leading as servants of the community and with our lives surrendered to the renewing work of the Spirit. We seek a high level of integrity in our speech, relationships, sexual ethics, and private lives. While we all come to this broken, our trajectory is set towards the healing wholeness (holiness) of Jesus, and we have reached enough maturity in this journey to be considered 'above reproach' (Titus 1:7).

Engaged

Engaged and present at a wide variety of Rea Church activities, especially including Sunday gatherings, prayer, leadership meetings, and table.

Biblical

The Scriptures are our lead authority in all matters of doctrine and practice, with the Evangelical Alliance statement of faith a good summary of our position. We hold a firm belief in the dynamic renewing presence of the Holy Spirit; a devotion to a missional church that looks beyond itself to the needs of the city; an orthodox/historic view on both sexuality and gender; a belief in the role of both men and women in roles of leadership in the church; an understanding that while God doesn't cause suffering, He sometimes allows it as a context for our inner renewal; and a deep commitment to the revealed goodness of the Father. The Gospel we preach centres on the inbreaking reign (Kingdom) of God through the power of the Cross of Jesus. Senior leaders stand with unity in these matters.

Relational

We do not lead in isolation, but together. Relationships with one another are built on mutual honour and trust. Our leaders don't just gather for the sake of task or function, but to be a strong community. Our measure of love and honour for one another establishes the culture for the wider church.

Called

A clear sense of being called by God — both to this role, and at this time. Hence, every part of the above is prayerfully discerned, listening to His lead as to establishing His leadership in our church.

¹ Biblical expectations of leadership are outlined in Acts 6:3, 1 Timothy 3:1-13, Titus 1:5-9
